Slovenia and Italy are characterised by various spa areas which are being researched and developed within the HealingPlaces project. During the event we will present and discuss transnational aspects of management of spa areas in Central Europe and reflect on the upcoming challenges of such areas from different aspects.

Razvojni center Novo mesto is a partner in the HealingPlaces project, which is implemented with the support of the Interreg Central Europe program and the European Regional Development Fund and is intended to strengthen environmental management capacity for the sustainable use of natural and cultural heritage in spa areas.
