Summary description of the implemented training measure(s), explaining the specific goal(s), target groups and transnational added value

The specific objective of the training session was to train the Nursery workers and representatives (who cares with vulnerable groups) on how to read the information received and how to face SAPEs according to specific target needs. The training was unique as we made a small questionnaire beforehand and we had to include the indoor air quality also to the topics as they showed their interest.

The training themes: Health effects of air pollution, Indicators of air pollution, Air pollution limit values, alert levels, indoor air quality and what we can do to avoid bad air quality, where to get information about air quality, how to inform the parents about air quality and actions to manage SAPEs, How to improve indoor air quality.

The training material has been shared after the training and together with the guideline document they provide sufficient support in managing SAPE.

We invited 34 nursery schools to the meeting we organized 4 occasion and we trained 91 nursery teachers.

The training exercises allowed meaningful interactions between partners as we involved experts to different topics (Dr. Tamás Szigethy from National Health Institute, Róbert Mészáros from ELTE university.)

Zugló's nurseries disseminated knowledge about the air quality among their visitors by provide information on the present air quality level (posters). We developed "off line" format of the AWAIR APP using a poster format that they can use to inform parents about air quality. We also introduced AWAIRapp and the levego.zuglo.hu website and other official channels to get information about air quality.

Expected impact and benefits of the trainings for the concerned territories and target groups

Our aim was to train nursery school workers on the effects of bad air quality and give them tools to adapt those situations and tools to avoid it. According to the evaluation they were satisfied with the information and they used posters and other materials to disseminate the information. We also give them the training summary in printed and pdf. version.

Sustainability of the training(s) and developed training material(s) and their transferability to other territories and stakeholders

We shared the training material and the experiences within our FUA Platform members. We know that one of our partners has copied our training and already organized training for their nursery schools. We will motivate FUA members to do the training. The training would be suitable for Career centers and other social institutions too.

We learned that this target group was very keen to learn about air quality.

The proposed activities could be easily replicated in other cities and territories, once translated into different languages. Other associations of vulnerable subjects could benefit from the project activities and training materials for example: schools, Career centers, centers for disabled citizens ...
