This partial deliverable presents the first step to identify common fields of interest of social business and altruistic entrepreneurs. The deliverable contributes to the output “CE road map for upscaling support to social entrepreneurship sector”.

The database of Social entrepreneurs contributes to the output “CE road map for upscaling support to social entrepreneurship sector”.

B. Social entrepreneurs

Social businesses have a positive impact on society but they are still able to create profit (including nob-for-profit companies, which reinvest their profit back on their core activities). In the context of this project, social entrepreneurs are grasped in broader sense, including not only entrepreneurs (persons, founders) but also social businesses (companies with social impact).

Companies having one of following characteristics have been included in the project database:

Companies are identified based on their activities and impact on society. Mindset incorporated in their strategy is considered and companies can aim at various areas e.g.: social, societal and environmental responsibility. The involvement in database is not bounded to legal definition of business; rather the innovative business model is taken into account in sense that “Responsible innovation = Social innovation”. Social empowerment is taken into account.

Companies and entrepreneur can come from different areas:

- Companies and entrepreneurs aiming at social inclusions
- Cultural heritage
- Creative industry
- Other societal impact services
- Social innovators, institutions for integration of deprived groups, NGOs (foundations, associations), integration centers, sport clubs, social cooperatives, and others.

In the context of this project, social entrepreneurs are grasped in broader sense, including not only entrepreneurs (persons, founders) but also social businesses (companies with social impact). Social businesses in the database of the project have positive impact on society in different areas of life and environment.

They are working with childhood in a very serious and intense way, creating a deep relationship with visual arts languages and producing strong and contemporary performance where different arts can meet. DOM is a centre dedicated to contemporary arts, directed by Laminarie theatre company in partnership with Bologna Municipality. DOM is a place willing to host new practises and publics, and it is open every day all day long. DOM is situated in the area of Pilastro, a suburban part of Bologna city with strong interethnical communities. In our everyday practice, we have tried to lend an ear to these people's needing. As a result, the kind of "theatre" we practise has no doubt a strong social relationship with local issues, but this relationship is strongly oriented towards a poetic project: a work of art that must be both unarmed and constantly willing to listen, and at the same time armed of its artistic strength.

Amigdala is an association founded in the city of Modena (Italy) in 2005, and is active in the area of contemporary and performing arts. The aim of the association is to develop cultural and artistic projects that are closely linked to the urban fabric by creating a broad and cross-cutting network of relationships with institutions, other associations and enterprises alongside the different branches of the Municipal Administration, while specifically addressing a young audience.  Amigdala has dealt with urban recovery since 2009 through a thorough process of study, research and planning around specific buildings of the city. From 2008 Amigdala is responsible for the Periferico festival, supported by Italian Ministry of Culture, which takes place every year in a different location. The past six editions of the festival have been organised in work places (within the fields of industry, agriculture and manufacture), urban spaces, archival storages, museums, and abandoned public buildings, by actualising site-specific art projects which encourage the re-interpretation of these spaces and their particular features.  New attention and care are necessary on a continuous basis to ensure that the activities promoted by Amigdala, although featured by an itinerant and explorative nature, do not remain scattered events, yet establish roots in the places they pass through as a result of the citizens' involvement and the value given to their skills and stories. Main projects/activities: 1. Periferico Festival is organised each year in a different location, and a peculiar feature of the festival is that it takes place in non-theatrical and unusual urban spaces of the city, blighted areas or public sites which are not enhanced within the urban territory, whose use is discussed and negotiated with public institutions and private citizens, according to the spot selected, 2. OvestLab is one of the dismissed workshops of the area of the Villaggio Artigiano in the west side of Modena.  It is an area created in the mid-50s from an audacious political intuition during the socio-economical situation after the Second World War. It was the first model of industrial area in Italy: an area that sits in-between the city and the countryside, and that ties together life and work, know-how and industry, production chain and local community.

Currently we collaborate with public and private bodies for projects aimed at favoring adequate opportunities for socialization and social inclusion. We mainly address people in situations of fragility and social marginality. Convinced that pluralism and diversity are a resource, over the years we have listened and gathered the needs of people and public bodies, together we have explored alternative ways to identify socio-rehabilitative, training and job placement paths, as well as placement inside and outside the cooperative. Alongside the artistic - craft workshops, which have always been the soul of Eta Beta, we have gradually developed a completely innovative vision of social entrepreneurship: the person, necessarily the protagonist, is the bearer of a wealth of values from the cultural, emotional and economic point of view. We have therefore given centrality to work as an essential tool for the dignity of the person; we have created activities that respect personal specificities, while being characterized by a broader meaning. They are thus defined in three sectors: EDUCATION, HEALTH, ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY.
