Lifbee - is an 8-month online training program for young people in science, business, IT, or design. Participants learn how biotech projects are born and experience cooperation in a team of innovators. Lifbee focuses on finding solutions to environmental and human health problems. The program enables interdisciplinary cooperation of university students and young professionals from all types of universities.

Slovak Innovation and Energy Agency \(SIEA\) is a contributory organization established by the Ministry of Economy of the Slovak Republic. Their task is to raise awareness about energy efficiency, renewable energy sources and innovations in all fields of economy and provide expert consulting in those areas. SIEA is implementing the national project “Support of the Development of the Creative Industry in Slovakia” enabling small and medium-sized enterprises based in the Slovak Republic to obtain financial support provided to increase their competitiveness and innovation potential through the use of outputs from cooperation with entities from designated sectors of the creative industry.

Within the event "Urban Talk: How can cross-sectoral collaboration help move Košice forward?" organized on 5.8.2021 within the project Košice 2.0 (organized by CIKE). It was discussed How can cross-sector collaboration help advance Košice? What is the role of the private sector in addressing such issues as the competitiveness of the region, brain drain, health, and others? On this occasion, we had the opportunity to present the COCO4CCI pilot concept. The discussion was led by: Richard Dlhý, City Hall Deputy Director, City of Košice; Monika Kočiová, Director - Košice Regional Chamber - SOPK; Stanislav Mucha, Director - PR & Marketing, Ness Košice; Martin Mudrák, Moderator, AmCham Slovakia; who have experience with cross-sectoral cooperation. Ladislava Juhászová provided information on the COCO4CCI pilot concept. The discussion was intended for the general public, self-government, private organizations, and non-profit organizations engaged in cross-sectoral cooperation.
