3. Minutes

The COVID19 situation postponed this event to September, and the organizer had to follow COVID19 pandemic measures issued by the Croatian Institute for Public Health.

The whole day event in Lokve, Primorje Gorski Kotar County, was organized on Saturday, 19th September 2020, by the PP10 Municipality of Lokve. The event was open for the public starting at 5:30 p.m and lasted until 11:00 p.m. It was an excellent opportunity to present the primary investment of Lake Guard House to a broader audience, as it was one of the main goals of the REFREsh project. In total, 49 participants were present at the event (for evidence, see participant list). Attendance at the event was free.

The Final Local support group meeting preceded the public event, also held in the Lake Guard House on Lokvarsko Lake in Lokve. Apart from summering main results and activities, the analysis of using the Lake Guardian House was given. The mayor presented the current - final state of establishing the company that will take care of Lake Guardian House. Ivana Babić, a graphic designer, showed the visual identity of the Lake Guardian House.

The central theme of the event was a series of campfires located in the House surroundings. The campfire event was one of four ideas elaborated through workshops with creative actors, trade, and tourism service providers held between June and July. The campfires were lit at dusk. The House outdoor area was decorated with torches that gave a unique atmosphere at night.

The educational part of the event was opened with the presentation of the activities and results of the REFREsh project. In the main multimedia room, the exhibition was set. In one part of the exhibition, the pilot actions and investment in all five countries were presented on posters. In the second part, the top results - tourism products were exhibited as part of the third pilot action - workshops with creative actors, trade, and tourism service providers.

In the outdoor area, locals were reciting old stories and legends in front of campfires. It was kind of an old tradition that we hope to revive in this event. Also, Vid Arbanas presented the traditional shepherd game šklofanje.

In front of the House, a local producer of specialty rakija (brandy) greeted guests with a welcome drink. In the House backyard, the local family farms (OPG) presented their homemade products, like jams, natural herb teas, fresh mushrooms, berries, juices, and other specialties. The present guests could try various culinary specialties from the Lokve area like goulash with polenta and different homemade strudels (sweet cheese, apple, and cherry flavor). The main culinary attraction was the local homemade sausages that the participants self-baked on the campfires.

The atmosphere was raised with live music, as the music band "Trio Universal" was playing from 6:30 till the end of the event.

4. Summary

The Open Industrial Heritage Day in Lokve was held on the 19th of September 2020. This event was an excellent opportunity to present the principal project investment - Lake Guard House to a broader audience.

The event's central theme was campfires in House surroundings, originating from tourism product ideas elaborated on previous pilot action workshops. The Final Local support group meeting preceded the public event. The educational part of the event was opened with the presentation of the activities and results of the REFREsh project. The pilot actions and investments and four tourism product posters were exhibited in the main multimedia room.

In the outdoor area, locals were reciting old stories and legends in front of campfires.

In the House backyard, the local family farms (OPG) presented their homemade products, and the guests could try various culinary specialties from the Lokve area. The atmosphere was raised with live music, as the music band "Trio Universal" was playing from 6:30 till the end of the event.

For a long time, the Municipality of Lokve was planning to integrate cultural structures in their region's tourism, and Open Heritage Day is a good example or beginning.
